MEMORIAL DAY PLANS PUSHED

Patriotic Groups Name Fitch and Nicklason As Leaders

Further arrangements for Salem's Memorial day observance at Hope and Grandview cemeteries were planned Thursday night at a meeting of representatives of the city's patriotic organizations in G. A. R. hall.

Atty A. L. Fitch was chosen president of the day and J. A. Nicklason was named marshal.

Committees to function under Chairman George E. Votaw, were appointed to complete other arrangements.

Louis Raymond has been selected as the speaker for the Veterans of Foreign Wars program at Grandview cemetery. A committee, composed of Wade Loop and A. B. Combs, was named to secure a speaker and chaplain for the Hope cemetery program.

Leroy Green is chairman of the transportation committee. K. H. Wilson will arrange for theater admissions for school children participating in the parade.

Bands will be secured by C. E. Kessler and Howard McCaffick. Fred Snyder will arrange seating at the groups.

The group, which includes all of the city's patriotic organizations, adopted a resolution demanding that Columbiana county commissioners comply with a law that calls for payment of $50 annually to patriotic organizations for the expenses of decorating graves in the cemeteries.

$305 Taken From Meters In Five Days

Parking meters netted $305.83 in coin collections during the first five days of enforced operation, according to an official count of the money Thursday by City Auditor Karl Webster.

That amount brings the total income from the meters since installation to $639.73, Webster said.

Police Thursday issued 42 violation tickets, 24 to out-of-town cars and 18 to local drivers, Chief Neff Count reported.

Gaunt issued a warning today to motorists to be careful to park within the space markers on the S. Broadway section. He said cars parked improperly may damage the meters and drivers will be fined.

Traffic Summons Rise

Meter operation resulted in an increase of 261 in traffic tickets last month, the chief's report for April reveals.

Prior to the beginning of meter enforcement last Thursday only 10 traffic tickets had been issued by the police department in April. The six final days of the month swelled the total to 271, the largest ever recorded here. Forty-seven were issued in March.

Thirty-two traffic accidents were reported by police in April, 24 involving automobiles, four between cars and pedestrians, one an auto-bike accident, two between cars and fixed objects and one a motorcycle mishap. Injuries to eight persons resulted.

Arrests totaled 38 in April, including 19 for intoxication, seven for drunken driving, one on assault and battery, four for disorderly conduct, one for wantonly, four on reckless operation charges and two on out-of-town warrants.

The drunken driving arrests rose over March's total, when four were arrested and fined on that charge.

Senate Favors Local Option Feature Of Rent Control Bill

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—A house passed bill extending rent control, but letting each city, town and county decide whether to take it or leave it, was tossed over to the senate today.

The "local option" feature immediately got a friendly reception there.

The house approved the measure 204 to 182 last night, after beating down attempts to require a 10 percent rent increase where ceilings now apply.

Modified in several ways that are not to President Truman's liking, the bill provides:

1. Continuation of controls from June 30 to Dec. 31, with the President given authority to continue them by proclamation to March 31, 1948 if he deems this advisable. Mr. Truman asked for extension of controls in their present form until June 30, 1948.
2. That the governing body in any county, city or town may in their discretion terminate rent control earlier by a finding that the necessity therefore no longer exists. This amendment, by Rep. Redden (D-N.C.), was adopted by a vote of 129 to 84. It would not apply to state rent control laws.

HANOVERTON GARAGE BURNS

Flames Destroy Loudon Motor Co. Building; Loss $50,000

An explosion of gasoline in a tractor which was being repaired in the Loudon Motor Co. garage at Hanoverton Thursday afternoon, caused a fire which swept the one-story structure within an hour, despite the efforts of four fire departments which answered the alarm.

Two new Ford automobiles were lost in the blaze.

The Salem department, and the Lisbon and Minerva volunteer departments joined with the Hanoverton townships. The blaze spread so rapidly and gained such headway that it was impossible to save the structure although a nearby store was saved.

No estimate of the loss, which is expected to exceed $50,000, could be obtained from Albert J. Loudon, owner of the garage.

In addition to the building, a large stock of repair parts for tractors, and cars, as well as a stock of tires and automobile accessories were destroyed. A new Fordson tractor, a used car and the tractor which was being repaired were also destroyed, as smaller explosions spread the flames quickly throughout the entire building.

The fire started in the comparatively new building at 3:15 p. m. The garage employed six workers.

Possible 15 Percent Boost

3. Authorizes landlords to raise rents 15 percent in return for a two-year lease if the tenant agrees.

4. Exempts from ceilings all new houses and apartments and any that have not been rented in the last two years.

5. Abolishes all government priority and allocation controls over building materials and construction under the Veterans Housing act, except that the government may require a permit for construction of buildings to be used for amusement or recreational purposes.

6. Retains veterans preferences to buy or rent new homes and continues government mortgage insurance on new homes up to 90 percent of value.

Even before the measure formally arrived in the senate, the Republican, whip, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, told reporters "I especially like the local option idea."

And Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) commented: "Generally speaking, the house bill is about the best that can be had at the moment. It is quite satisfactory."

But Wherry, whose job as whip charges him with keeping party members in line on important legislative tests, said it may be late this month or early next before the senate gets around to acting on a rent bill.

Officials Hopeful In Phones Tie-up

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Union and company leaders joined to discuss the long lines phase of the telephone dispute today, with government conciliators hoping anew to end the 26-day-old strike on the basis of a compromise wage formula.

The joint discussions followed separate meetings of representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company long lines division and of the American Union of Telephone Workers.

Government officials, who announced they were ready to submit a compromise wage plan for consideration, met first with the company and then with the union leaders.

There was no comment whether the formula had been offered at the separate meetings or whether it was held for the combined talks in which Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson joined other government conciliators.

They didn't describe the formula, but there were indications that they might try to end the tie-up now in its 26th day—with a combination of:

1. An immediate wage increase, smaller than the $6 a week demanded by the National Federation of Telephone Workers.
2. An arbitration board to determine the extent of any further raises, if any.

Wallace Declares Reds Want Peace

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, May 2.—Former Vice President Henry A. Wallace said today he believed Russia would "do everything possible—more than any other country in the world—to avoid war."

In a press conference preceding his address here tonight, he declared he saw no danger of an eventual spread of Communism throughout the world.

"The way to stop Communism is to give the people something better," Wallace added. "You don't stop Communism by writing editorials against it."

He said Russia had no territorial ambitions in Europe.

Saying away from domestic issues, Wallace advocated that the United Nations "make peace vital, based on opportunity of all peoples in all lands to raise their standards of living."

Again attacking the proposed United States loan to Greece and Turkey, the former agriculture and commerce secretary said it appeared to be the "first step in uniting the world toward armed attacks."

Goodyear Aircraft Closed By Strike

AKRON, May 2.—Pickets paraded around the strikebound Goodyear Aircraft Corp. today following a walkout of 1,900 CIO-United Auto Workers unionists involved in a contract dispute with officials of the metalworking firm.

Walter Turek, local union president, said the unionists left their jobs last night because their working contract, "dated May 1," had expired. The workers have demanded a 15-cent hourly wage increase, including six paid holidays and other provisions of CIO-UAW agreements with automotive producers, he added.

Negotiations in the dispute began April 10 and were continued yesterday with a 2 1/2-hour session shortly before the unionists walked out.

A wage contract signed May 1, 1946, was "supposed to continue until new contract was signed or until a 10-day advance notice of cancellation was given," reported a company spokesman, "but no notice was given" before the strike.

14 HORSES IN ANNUAL DERBY

Unheard of 'Long-Shot Sleeper' Entered In Saturday's Classic

By SID FEDER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2.—A field of 14 three-year-olds—the 13 expected and the annual unheard-of "long shot sleeper"—was entered at Churchill Downs today for tomorrow's 73rd running of the Kentucky Derby.

The dark-horse from the blue grass, automobile-body builder Charles Fisher's Star Reward, was the first to enter even before the Downs' secretary's office opened for business, and the California plumber's horse, Earl Stice's On Trust, was the last.

But the two to beat still were the Virginia galloper, Phalanx, and Warren Wright's Faultless, whose stable "family" was all smiles this morning when the sun came out and held hope for a fast track.

The "sleeper" in this smallest Derby field, since only nine others dared to go against Count Fleet four years ago, was Balheim, a fair mud runner from the Murlogg farm of Mrs. R. J. Murphy and her daughter, Susan Kellogg, of Evansville, Ind. Given no consideration as a Derby starter in all the pre-race speculation, his stable decided to enter him after he won the last race on yesterday's Downs program.

There were the high speed Jet Pilot, the stretch-sizzling Rik-kicker, Cosmic Bomb, tiny Bullet Proof, the movie entry of Stepfather and W. L. Sickle, Double Jay, who was last year's second best two-year-old Liberty Road and the mud running Jet Jett, all of whom were placed in the lists by trainers, jockeys or stable agents in the steady parade to the entry box that began at 7:30 a. m. (CST) and wound up at 10:30.

In the draw for post positions, Cosmic Bomb drew the pole position, Faultless was well-placed in the No. 4 stall of the starting gate, and Phalanx was in the middle of the track in No. 9.

The others were 2, Balheim; 3, Double Jay; 5, Bullet Proof; 6, Star Reward; 7, Stepfather; 8, W. L. Sickle; 10, On Trust; 11, Riskolater; 12, Jet-Jett, Liberty Road and 14, Jet Pilot, whose front-running style wasn't helped any by the extreme outside spot.

Small Price Declines On 300 Commodities Noted

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The Bureau of Labor Statistics says wholesale market prices on 300 commodities fell an average of three-tenths of one percent during the week ended last Saturday.

The weekly report was made public a few hours after Gael Sullivan, executive director of the Democratic national committee, declared retailers generally are willing to heed President Truman's call for lower prices but can do little unless "basic manufacturers" cooperate.

Sullivan said in a circular distributed to party leaders that cabinet officers, at the President's direction, are out to "put the heat" on "basic manufacturers like steel, automobiles and the manufacturers of durable goods."

The Bureau of Labor statistics report said declines were reported in all non-agricultural commodity groups except house furnishings.

MAY BE HEARD IN PALESTINE DISCUSSION

Trygve Lie, British Leader In Favor of Hearing Their Side

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 2.—Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, warned today that the general assembly would be making a drastic departure from past practice if it gave the Jews a voice in its Palestine debates.

The secretary-general addressed the assembly's 14-nation steering committee after Poland formally moved a resolution demanding that the official Jewish agency for Palestine be given the right to represent the Jews at this extraordinary session.

Britain declared earlier that the Jews should be given a voice in the debate if any legal means could be found to provide a hearing for them.

Cadogan Expresses Views

The first official British views on this delicate problem were expressed by Sir Alexander Cadogan to newsmen just before the general assembly's 14-nation steering committee began discussion of Jewish demands for representation at this extraordinary session.

Cadogan said that in view of the fact that Arab states had entered into a full debate of the Palestine question the Jews should be heard if it was "constitutionally feasible." He declined to say whether he believed this was possible or, if so, how it could be done.

Despite Cadogan's endorsement of the general idea of hearing the Jews, there remained the possibility that Britain and the United States might split over the type of representation to be given.

United States spokesmen maintained their usual caution on this delicate matter and would not go beyond saying that Warren R. Austin would plump for some kind of representation. It was reported on good authority, however, that Austin would suggest that the Jews be given a voteless seat on the 55-nation political committee.

This step would be virtually equal to full assembly participation, as the major issues are due to be threshed out in that powerful body.

The British were known to be ready to reject any such plan, and if Austin presses the two powers could be expected to break for the first time in the extraordinary session.

Another American choice was said to be for a special committee to hear the Jews and then report back. This procedure would enable the U. N. to skirt a precedent-setting decision on giving representation to a non-government.

The British were reported ready to consider this proposal, but the Jewish agency, only body named in the terms of the mandate, was represented as being determined to resist anything short of appearance before a full 55-nation body.

DAYTON-SPRINGFIELD AREA STORM-SWEPT

DAYTON, May 2.—Hard rains and high winds buffeted the Dayton-Springfield area last night, unroofing several houses, toppling trees, interrupting power service and downing 10 airplanes at two private fields in Springfield.

Wind velocity reached 55 miles an hour in Dayton, with gusts 10 miles an hour faster. Damage was largely in the suburban area, with Mad river township east of the city hit hardest.

At Springfield a gust of wind hurled the roof of a cottage 50 feet. Mrs. Mary Wiegand and her 80-year-old grandmother, Jeanette, the occupants, were unhurt. Roof of several other houses and a number of Clark county barns were damaged extensively.

The Ghost Walks

Some weeks ago it appeared the bill to legalize the sale of colored oleomargarine had been quietly throttled and hidden in a convenient closet, but now the ghost walks in the state legislature.

The bill has been brought from committee and passed in the Senate by a 23-11 vote. Now it goes to the House. It's a well-known fact butter won't melt in the mouth of a rural legislator who's pondering the subject of oleomargarine, and the bill's chances of final passage are no better than fair. Perhaps the reason it mustered so many votes in the Senate was that rural senators decided to get on the popular side of the measure, knowing their country colleagues in the House would administer the coup de grace.

The arguments for and against the sale of colored oleo have been thoroughly explored and not one just reason has been advanced for prohibiting it. Ohio housewives spend an estimated 7,000,000 work-hours a year coloring oleo. Oleo is no less nutritious than butter and butter is in short supply. The subject is gone over at every session of the legislature and then quietly shelved.

Before the rural representatives again affirm their ridiculous opposition they had better give serious consideration to the growing irritation of urban districts at the selfish domination of the legislature by corn-tassel politicians.

A comparatively trifling issue like the sale of colored oleo may be the rallying point for a revolt against rural domination of the legislature, just as a trifling tax on tea provided a rallying point for the American colonists in 1775.

One For Solomon

In taking up the Palestine problem, the United Nations couldn't have found a knottier puzzle had it searched the whole world over. A crossroads of civilization long before Jesus, David, or Herod, Palestine has been a disputed land since the dawn of time.

Key to the modern dispute over Palestine centers about the Balfour Declaration, the 67 words of which mean one thing to the British, another to the Jews and still another to the Arabs.

The Declaration reads: "His Majesty's Government view with favor the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people and will use their best endeavors to facilitate the achievement of that object—it being understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by the Jews in any other country."

If from the welter of conflicting interests—racial, religious, geographic, social and political—the United Nations can devise a workable plan for Palestine, it will have passed the most difficult test possible. It will have proved itself indispensable in the peaceful settlement of the world's disputes.

Quiet, Please!

This is National Noise Abatement Week. Whether things are quieter is doubtful. Certainly the news hasn't been imparted to the beagle hound down the street which is giving tongue as if it were the first day of the hunting season. Manhole covers clank dismally under passing wheels. Radio programs conducted by extrovert pranksters have the same hysterical audiences. The decibel output of auto horns hasn't decreased a bit.

What can YOU do to help National Noise Abatement Week? Well, you can lift your feet when you walk. Make sure you are shod with rubber heels. Take that bubble gum away from your children. Speak in low tones. Don't slam doors. Cancel whatever plans you had for setting off firecrackers in rain-barrels.

Those suggestions probably wouldn't make things one whit quieter, but they should give you a sense of participation, a feeling you were part of the big picture.

No Flies On Anyone

The head of the bug department at the University of Idaho says that this country could get rid of all houseflies with DDT, if the 48 states would stage systematic "no flies" campaign.

If it ever happens and a researcher looks through the files (not flies) of this newspaper in the 22nd century he may be interested in this statement:

Emancipation of man from houseflies, and eventually other insect pests, if it occurred any time in the 20th century would be, next to atomic fission, the only memorable thing about the whole century. Everything else was pretty humdrum—a few wars, a lot of struggling—nothing worth noting a century later.

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE REMBLE
For Saturday, May 3

A NOVEL, revolutionary, possibly unique and radical, course of action should produce startling and thrilling change in the affairs, with much of the unforeseen and unpredictable.

A complete about-face or reversal of old ways and means should give dramatic if not spectacular spurt to matters in a critical state. While audacious and deeply bold or brave attack may be recommended, it would be hazardous if carried to extremes, under emotional or temperamental outburst. Force and tumult should be shunned.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are promised a year of dramatic and far-reaching achievement, with high promise of fulfilling cherished hopes and wishes having radical effect on the future, its wide range progress, prosperity and personal happiness.

Work toward this end demands complete revolution of ideals, ideas, plans and patterns, in which novelty, boldness and ingenuity have definite place. Mad rushes in this direction, with tempest, fury, turbulence and recklessness, would exact long-term penalties, aggravating and disruptive. Remain calm and proceed with sanity and deliberation.

A child born on this day may possess much originality, genius, exceptional talents and skills, making for dramatic progress and attainment. This could be undermined by rash, turbulent or wayward impulses.

Thirty years ago women never thought of doing the things they do today, says a writer. That may be why they didn't do them.

No pilot ever wants to show what his plane's cracked up to be.

There are times when a wealthy man's daughter is just a little cheek girl.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Disease-Producing Organism

By HERMAN N. RUNDEN, M. D.
A VIRUS is the smallest of disease-producing organisms known, so tiny that it can be seen, if at all, only with the most powerful of electron microscopes.

There are perhaps thousands of different kinds of these trouble-makers. Many of them seem to have a special affinity for certain tissues, producing disease by attacking these and these alone.

For instance infectious hepatitis, a disease affecting the liver, is thought to be caused by one of these viruses. It has been shown that the virus is present in the blood, in the secretions from the nose and throat and in the stools of patients suffering from this disease, but in its attack on the liver, it does its greatest damage.

From various studies and reports it is thought that the disease is spread at times by contaminated water, milk and food.

Development of Condition
The condition seems to develop within 20 to 40 days after a person has been exposed to it. It begins suddenly with fever, sometimes with chills, pain in the joints and general aching of the muscles. The fever is seldom very high and usually returns to normal after three to four days.

Sometimes there are symptoms present like that of a cold, occasionally with sore throat. Loss of appetite, sickness to the stomach, and vomiting and diarrhea often occur.

About four to five days after the onset, the patient develops jaundice which is a greenish-yellow discoloration of the skin. However, the jaundice often may not appear for several weeks or may develop even on the first day of the sickness. The jaundice may last for two weeks up to seven months or even longer. Enlargement of the lymph glands as well as increase in the size of the liver is also present.

Infectious hepatitis is not, as a rule, a serious disease. However, in occasional cases, it may even be fatal. Hence, the doctor should be called at once whenever it is suspected.

According to Dr. George Blummer of California, it is most important that the patient gets enough rest during the period of recovery. In addition he should receive a diet containing plenty of starchy foods and sugars as well as enough proteins from such foods as meat, milk and eggs.

During the early of the illness, the patient should be kept at complete rest in bed and given plenty of fluids, easily digested foods and such medicines as are necessary to relieve discomfort and sleeplessness. During the period of jaundice, the diet should be free from fats.

Occasionally a substance known as methionine may be administered since it seems to help protect the liver cells from damage.

Epidemics of infectious hepatitis are by no means infrequent and when such an epidemic is occurring persons should be on the lookout for the symptoms of this disease and report to their doctor without delay.

Room In French Village Where Nazis Signed Surrender Now Quiet Museum

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

RHEIMS—In the map-lined room of the Modern and Technical College of Rheims, nothing has changed since three Nazi representatives sat stiffly at a conference table two years ago and signed Germany's surrender.

Outside it is different. It is once more like the days before the war, the villagers, Rheims, on its second May 7 of peace, is a busy provincial town instead of a busy military headquarters.

The SHAEF war room of General Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters, where the surrender was signed, was turned over to the town of Rheims last summer. The maps and war charts still cover the walls; the mission assigned to the Allied Air Force on May 6, 1945; the strength of the Allied armies; the "thermometer" that rose as Germans were captured, 4,035,061 prisoners from June 6, 1944, to May 7, 1945.

More than 12,000 civilians and 10,000 members of the Allied forces have come to look at the surrender scene since it was open to the public. Soldiers, townspeople and school children, walk past the empty table and spell out the names tacked to the now empty chairs.

Say the townsfolk:
"They were a little boisterous at times, your American soldiers. But many have promised to come back, and they will be welcome. They and our other Allies are why Rheims has peace on May 7, 1947."

Writes Own Obituary
TOLEDO, May 2—On May 1, 1942, George M. Kring walked into the Piersdorf funeral home here and wrote his own obituary. Today, exactly five years later it was printed.

Proprietors of the mortuary reported Kring came to them five years ago to arrange for his funeral and specify that he be cremated. He asked also that there be no services.

The obituary, written on white tablet paper said Kring was born in Wilmore, Pa., and was one of 12 children. He came to Toledo in 1893 to work as a heating engineer and salesman. He retired in 1940.

There were 56 signers to the Declaration of Independence.

Join Children's Back Yard Play To Revive Youthful Viewpoint

BY ALICIA HART

THERE'S relaxation to be had from back-yard play. There's a young point of view that can be gained by joining up with the kids.

You don't have to match home-runs with the wiz of the team to reap benefits from baseball. Whether you strike out or only make first base, the swing of a ball bat and the exhilaration that comes from being out of doors will relax tense nerves and give you emotional release.

Croquet, as mild as it is, pays dividends, too. It keeps you out of doors and the competition of the game will take your mind off your problems.

Rope-skipping may be too strenuous for an adult. But you can join in the fun by twirling one end of a long rope for younger jumpers to leap.

If you're roller-skated in your youth, or ridden a bicycle, the ability to balance yourself again on wheels will give you a feeling of triumph.

Even if you're a lazybones who doesn't like to move, go out of doors to be inactive. You can rejuvenate your point of view by watching the kids play.

Star Club Members At Weingart Home

Mrs. E. A. Weingart entertained members of the Star club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Townsend, Goshen rd. Lunch was served.

On June 5 the members will meet with Mrs. Nellie Rupert, Maple st.

They left Baltimore Friday afternoon and visited Norfolk, Newport News, Williamsburg and other points in Virginia, returning Sunday night. Miss Troll is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Troll, Vine ave.

Mrs. Leonard Bonsall of San Jose, Calif., is the guest of Mrs. John Lutch of Franklin st.

Mrs. Tillie Snyder of N. Lincoln ave. moved Thursday to E. State st.

Campus Mystery Trail Ends Near Waterfall

ITHACA, N. Y.—Patrolman Don Wallenbeck and Charles Manning, a Cornell university proctor, have learned about "Eutaxocrinus Ithacensis" (Williams) Sherborne, foot of falls in Fall Creek Gorge.

A note containing the mysterious wording was found one dark night by a campus night watchman. Wallenbeck and Manning feared some Cornell student, dependent over a failed examination, had decided to end it all at the foot of the gorge.

They searched, without finding much of anything except water, ice—and, oh yes, some Eutaxocrinus Ithacensis.

It turned out that a botany student must have dropped the note. The Greek wording was for a form of moss discovered years ago by a man named Williams in the Sherborne rocks at the foot of the falls.

The fall of water at Niagara Falls represents an energy equivalent to the burning of a ton of coal every second.

Miss Cosma Hostess To Club Associates

Miss Mary Cosma of Aetna st. entertained the Late Eight club Thursday evening.

Mrs. Paul Parana and Mrs. Charles Smith won prizes in the "500" games. Secret pals were chosen. Lunch was served.

In two weeks the members will meet again.

Book Club Will Have Dessert Luncheon

A dessert luncheon at 1:30 will feature the Book club's May party Monday afternoon at the public library assembly room.

Prizes in the card games were awarded as follows:

Mrs. Joseph Harp received a special prize.

The next meeting is set for June 5. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Charles Kaufman, Miss Mary Theresa Bohr, Mrs. Elizabeth Julian, Mrs. Ann Lippert, Miss Winifred Cullinan and Mrs. James Cullinan.

Social Situations

THE SITUATION: At a large party you recognize a person you have met in the past, but he does not remember you.

WRONG WAY: Say, "I'll bet you don't remember me."

RIGHT WAY: Begin your conversation by saying, "I am John Jones. I believe we met at the Smiths one evening." This makes it possible for him to say, "It's so nice to see you again." Instead of admitting that he doesn't remember you.

PONTIAC
A fine car made finer

People "in the know" buy Pontiac

Our records reveal that an amazing number of engineers and technicians choose Pontiac for their personal cars.

One of America's foremost experimental engineers recently explained this, as he took delivery of a new Pontiac. "I really believe," he said, "that Pontiac is the soundest car built today. It is in a class by itself for well-balanced excellence."

Year after year, this is true of Pontiac. While its engineering is always progressive, no feature is ever included in Pontiac design until it has been thoroughly and completely proved. You can take delivery of a new Pontiac any year with the certain knowledge that it will serve you long and dependably.

So regardless of when you expect to get your next car—make it a Pontiac. An extraordinary number of people "in the know" will support your choice.

THE SOONER YOU PLACE YOUR ORDER for a new Pontiac, the earlier you will get it. So place your order now for future delivery. And remember—you'll get more for your present car when you trade if you take good care of it now.

G. I. Foxhole Dreams Result In Oil Company

HOUSTON, Tex.—A group of former soldiers who dreamed of operating an oil refinery after the war, climaxed their foxhole plans when they shipped a complete $500,000 oil cracking plant to Cuba.

The 24 G.I.s sent 600 tons of equipment to the Cuban Oil Refining Co. in Santa Clara Province in Cuba, where the plant will operate in a field of about 25 producing wells.

The new company was formed about a year ago by the Army Air Force veterans, who saved their money during the war to go into business with three Cubans.

The refinery equipment, which was collected from all over the country, will be assembled by Cuban workers.

Underground Aircraft Plans Considered

WASHINGTON, May 2 — The Army Air Force reported today it is looking into the possibility of putting aircraft factories underground as a protection against any future air attacks.

The studies are being made at AAF headquarters and at Wright field, O., by experts who are drawing upon German experience with underground installations.

The Germans, an AAF announcement said, actually began experimenting with underground structures in World War I and a factory for the manufacture of precision instruments was placed in caves near Thuringia in 1917.

During the last war, several German plants went underground to escape Allied air attacks.

CAMBRIDGE HOSPITAL TO CARE FOR 2,800

COLUMBUS, May 2—State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood estimated today that Cambridge State hospital could care for 2,800 mental patients instead of the 2,500 it originally was scheduled to handle.

About 2,000 are housed there now, with 25 more due to be transferred from Massillon State hospital and 50 from the Cleveland State hospital in the near future.

Sherwood said that Dr. A. T. Hopwood, superintendent at Cambridge, had told him that conversion of extra quarters would permit addition of 300 beds without overcrowding.

The welfare department is acquiring the hospital, formerly operated by the army, from the War Assets administration.

Sherwood also announced that an additional building had been opened at Summit county receiving hospital at Cuyahoga Falls to increase its capacity from 45 to 65.

KEEP THE QUESTION MARK OUT OF YOUR CAR

No one knows better than we do how hard it is to get parts for automobiles these days. But it still is true that a repair job can't be better than the parts used in it.

That's why we put so much stress on Buick Engineered Parts.

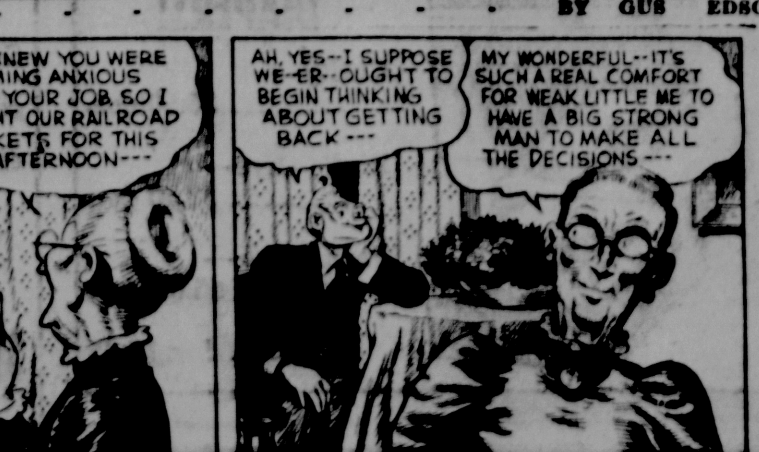

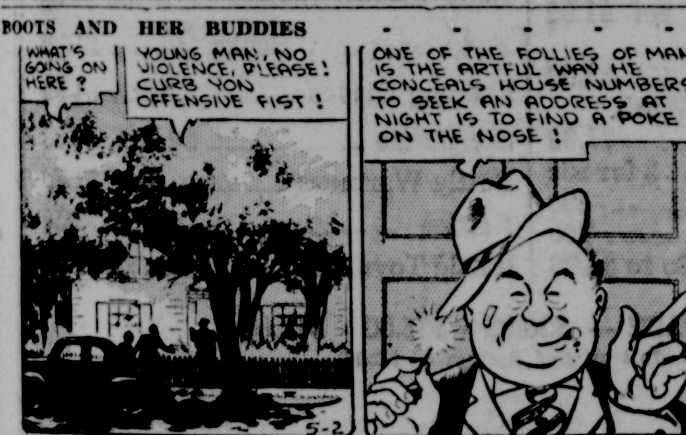

These are exactly the same in quality, durability and function as the parts Buick used in building the car in the first place. No "maybes," no "just-as-goods," no question marks—you know the quality of every part we use in your automobile.

As long as new-car demand continues to outrun new-car production, as at present, it's still important to keep your car in better-than-average shape.

So why take chances? Why not bring your car to a place where you can be sure everything that goes into it, from parts to servicing skills, is sure to be top quality?

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—Thousands come here to see congress at work.

They wander into the senate gallery, take a seat and look down contentedly upon the senators at work. There are 96 senators but the visitor looks down at perhaps only five or six, one talking and the others listening or reading.

Pretty often, except at voting time there are only that many on the floor at one time.

The other senators stroll in and stroll out. The visitors, not having seen them before, can't tell whether they're senators or clerks.

He's either not interested in the subject or he's heard this same speech or something like it before.

Or a senator pops through the swinging doors, catches an earful, strides across the floor, disappears through other swinging doors.

So the visitor, a little bewildered, withdraws quietly and, patiently plodding through the Capitol halls, lands in the house gallery.

This looks better to him. There are more men on the house floor.

There are 435 house members, so more of them are bound to be on the floor at any one time than you'll find in the senate.

The visitor cocks an ear to hear what that congressman with the waving arms is yelling at the other congressmen.

Some of them may be reading newspapers. Some will be sitting with dead-pan faces. Some may be listening sharply.

Once more the visitor wanders away, thinking maybe: So this is congress.

What he doesn't know is that most of the senators and representatives are busy elsewhere, in committees or in their offices.

The visitor might get a better idea of congress at work if he took the trouble to visit the committee meetings and listen in there.

He has six children, but can't remember their ages, explaining that "they are old enough to chew hay." His wife is 84. (International Soundphoto)

RESPONSIBILITY RESTS WITH DRIVER

Mechanical failure of the automobile is not the major cause of traffic accidents, according to Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbus Motor club. The man-at-the-wheel, with all his human shortcomings and lack of perfection, is still the most important factor.

What manner of driver are YOU? If all other drivers on the highway were just like you—would Ohio's accident rate be better, or worse than it now is?

Your social attitudes—your own driving habits—your conduct on the highway from day to day—these factors will determine whether or not you will ever have the bad fortune of being found at fault in a traffic accident.

Do you know and OBEY the traffic laws? Do you relax and take your time in traffic? Do you give the other fellow the right-of-way, even when you think it should be yours? Do you maintain high standards of courtesy as a driver?

If you do, the chances of your causing an accident become more and more remote. Do all of these things and TAKE IT EASY—we need better drivers on our highways!

Ohio-Mississippi River Voyage Ends At School

MINNEAPOLIS, May 2.—A four-month trip on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers was at an end yesterday for an amateur-built schooner-houseboat that will provide living quarters for Mr. and Mrs. Warren Christianson while he attends the University of Minnesota law school.

Christianson, a B-17 pilot during the war, and his wife started the boat while he was assigned to an air base near Columbus, O., after his active duty tour. They started the voyage last January with a 60-horsepower engine pushing the craft along at about five miles an hour.

"When I get my law degree in three years we will have the masts fitted out, sail down the river to the gulf and then pick out some town on the Atlantic or Pacific coast where I can practice law," he said.

"We'll continue living in the boat and take her on cruises when we like."

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

Andy Mocsary, pro at the Salem Golf club, pulled into Salem Thursday morning from St. Petersburg, Fla., all set to get going with the new playing season here.

Blessed with the usual Florida tan after a winter in the south, Andy reports that his first check of the course here was very encouraging.

He says it is in as good a shape as it was when he left last fall. The winter, in a golf way at least, wasn't too active for Andy, for he suffered a broken wrist while playing at Pinehurst on the way south in the fall and consequently was fairly well laid up until a month or so ago.

He played in a tournament in Richmond, Va., on the trip down, but that about summed up his winter golf, he says. Andy added a son to his family during the winter. He now has the boy and one girl.

The ball and club situation this season is going to be much better, Andy says. He brought a large stock of both back with him and had a flock shipped to the club here during the winter.

The shortage is about over and the pill pounders won't have to worry so much about securing good equipment.

Andy began his duties yesterday. Early season lessons, work to be done at the club house and occasional rounds with the early birds will occupy him until the official season opens May 30.

The affair will be 10-round non-title go.

Zale, who ascended the title ranks after starting his fighting days in and around Youngstown, is popular with district fans. He hasn't shown in the Mahoning valley for some years.

He expects a sellout house of nearly 4,000 fans.

Warren has done well this season, topping some of the best teams in this part of Ohio. Featured, of course, is Walt Corbin, All-Ohio football player and a star eager, who rips through the dash events in very good time, but who has taken to the 440 this season.

He has recorded one 52 second run so far and is expected to come close to that, or even better it, here, Tuesday.

Salem, of course, has a triangular affair on tap here tonight with Niles and Canton McKinley. McKinley's relay teams are the attraction then.

Up to yesterday, there were only supposed to be 12 going to the post. Then Jet-Jet, a mud-meandering colt from the barn of William Peavey of Ladysmith, Wis., was dropped into the lists to be named when the entry box opened for business at 7:30 a. m.

There was one other change in the lineup overnight. Jockey Johnny Adams, the Kansas rider who has won the national riding championship three times, notified Trainer Graceton Philpot he would be unable to pilot Movie-Man Harry Warner's W. L. Sickle Saturday because he's booked for a stake race in New York.

Only 300 coaches attended the recent Purdue football clinic and about 400 are expected at Ohio State's, but Pro Paul Brown will draw at least 600 this weekend.

Schedule Set For Softball Opening Monday

Legion Baseball Team Sets Practice Games

Members, interested players and coaches of the American Legion Junior baseball team are to report to Centennial park at 1:30 p. m. Saturday and Sunday for practice sessions, both of which will include practice games.

Legion team officials invite all interested fans out to the practice game at the park.

Schedules for the opening days of Salem's Class A softball, starting Monday, were drawn Thursday night at a meeting of managers at the Memorial building.

Billed in the National league opener on the south diamond at Centennial park at 5:45 p. m. Monday are the Printz and Electric Furnace outfits. In the American league the Diner collides with the Nationals at the same time on the north diamond.

In the nightcap contests, for which teams must report by 6:15 p. m., the National league plates the Recreation, the loop's mystery team, against the Salem Tool. The second game in the American league will feature the Jaycees against Hunters of Washingtonville.

Joe Kelley, league manager, emphasized the need for the first games each night to be under way not later than 6:45. If a team hasn't sight men available at that time the game will be forfeited, he said. Second game teams must be ready to play at 6:15 in each case.

Kelley also reminded these managers who have not yet turned in team contract books that the books must be in the hands of the league secretary, Bob Dixon, before a club can play its first game. Some managers have already filed contracts but many have still players to sign.

The north and south diamonds at the park will be used by Class A until the new Wilson st. diamond, complete with lights for night games, is ready, Kelley said.

Tuesday's card in the National league has the Cottage and Golden Eagle booked at 5:45 and the VFW against the Deming club in the late game.

In the American on Tuesday the Ehrharts will tangle with the highly touted Crescents (Leetonia) at 5:45 and Fratillas will meet the AMVETS in the second game.

On Thursday the American league sends the Saxons against Hannays at 5:45 and no game is booked as yet for the later fray. Mullins drew a bye in the early National league schedule and will play Thursday against an opponents yet to be decided. The full schedule will be drafted by Kelley next week.

As the teams in both leagues began opening day preparations this week all three local softball fields, two at the park and one adjacent to Reilly stadium, were busy as beehives with practice sessions.

Thursday afternoon, until the rain interrupted proceedings, more than 100 players were active at the park layout and about 50 were practicing at Reilly.

Enthusiasm for the opening of the leagues is growing daily, with several strong teams already being conceded as top runners in the American league.

The National league, generally considered slightly under the American loop's par, is full of question marks. Many new players are signed with teams in both leagues and consequently all guesses are probably no more than just that.

The two leagues will play off league championships on a round basis, each team meeting all the others in the loop to constitute a round of play.

Round winners (Kelley planning at least three rounds this season) will then vie in a playoff for the final league title.

Then champions of the American and National leagues will meet in the annual city series early in September.

Steve Zaitko and Don Kopf apparently will open the season as umpires with more to be added later, Kelley said.
